

TO OUR VALUED CUSTOMERS...

Thank you for your business this past year. We certainly appreciate the confidence you have placed in our company and our products to meet your seed needs. We strive to improve our product line every year in order to offer you more profit potential for your farm.

- For 2018 our corn and soybean product lines have excellent conventional and traited products to meet your needs. We also have first rate alfalfa and small grain seed.

- This year we have increased our offering of Silage corns for livestock producers.

- Terning Seeds has been a proud, family-owned company for more than 42 years. Unlike many companies, we grow and process our own corn and soybean products to maintain quality at every stage of the production cycle.

Throughout our 2018 catalog we're giving you an up-close look at our production process.

- Like every year, 2018 will offer its own unique set of challenges, but we're here to provide seed products that will help you be successful.

Sincerely,
Dennis Terning

Terning's climate-controlled warehouse is heated and cooled by a state-of-the-art solar energy system that maintains consistent air and humidity levels. Seed is stored under ideal conditions year-around.
